

Air Waves

by CANDY WALSOE

WNTC is back on the air again for the second semester. Something new is added—a half hour! The station will operate now from 7:30 p. m. until 11 p. m. Because of the extreme temperatures, the Executive Board of the station has decided to postpone all Morning Bandstand programs until the weather is more favorable.

The station receives ten new records each week. Call the station sometime soon and ask about these new records. If you find one or two you like, ask to have them played.

R. Y.—that's the 10-11 show. Requestfully Yours — the songs you want played, when you want them played. Call 2770, and the record librarian will reply with a very pleasant "Good evening, WNTC." Tell her your request and listen later when Requestfully Yours comes over the air waves. You might as well listen in—who knows, maybe someone has made a request for you! Life never Git's teejus at WNTC-640 on the dial-telephone 2770.
